Local Youths In State 4-H Revue

Patti Robinson and Janet Smith will represent Calloway County in the 1978 Kentucky 4-H Fashion Revue to be held in the University of Kentucky Memorial Coliseum June 14 at 7:30 p.m.

A fashionable theme — "Clothes Encounters of the 4-H Kind" — is planned for this state event in which 135 county winners will compete for state honors, modeling outfits they made in their 4-H clothing projects during the year.

Patti Robinson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robinson, will compete in the Intermediate Dress unit with her white eyelet dress.

Janet Smith, 18, will wear her peach knot dress in the mix-match unit competition. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Smith.

These two were chosen May 12 as winners of the Calloway County Fashion Revue.

Other units represented in the state Fashion Revue will be advanced dress, outer wear, special occasion, knitting (combined fabric knitting), and creative design (where 4-H'ers have designed the outfit or made special changes in a store-bought pattern).

The overall champion will represent Kentucky in the National 4-H Fashion Revue National 4-H Congress in Chicago this winter.

The fashion Revue will be held in conjunction with the annual Kentucky 4-H Week, which is expected to attract over 800 Kentucky 4-H'ers. Fashion Revue participants will join 4-H Week delegates for some of their sessions, and all those attending 4-H week will see the Fashion Revue Wednesday night.

The 4-H Week theme "4-H — You Light Up My Life" also has a contemporary flair, and the program will focus on personal development and 4-H teen leadership. Other Calloway County delegates to this June 13-16 event are: Brad Bryan, Terry Sladd, Jo Beth Norwood, Penny Lockhart, Carla Beach, and Deana Cunningham.

The Calloway County delegation, accompanied by Jean W. Cloor, County Extension Agent for Home Economics, will leave for Lexington Tuesday, June 13. That evening, Fashion Revue contestants will have an orientation session and will hear professional models discuss make-up and modeling techniques.

Wednesday is devoted to rehearsal for the Revue in Wednesday night.

Wednesday and Thursday's program for Fashion Revue participants will be the 4-H Week assemblies, workshops and a banquet and dance.

Your Changing County Government

Several Changes Are Taking Place In Look Of Local Government

(First part of a six-part series on changes in county government. These are a result of 1978 General Assembly actions becoming effective June 17.)

If you've gotten a speeding ticket lately, the first of many changes in the county courthouse has hit you. The county judge doesn't hold "court" anymore. The sign on his office door (and it may be in a new location) reads county Judge - Executive. So "what's new?" you may ask. "What's in a name?"

Judge-executive marks a historic shift in Kentucky county government. Judges and magistrates don't hold court anymore, but they're still the folks to see about graveling a road, cleaning out a ditch, fixing the park shelterhouse or getting the trash picked up around the dumpster sites.

How they go about taking care of your

Carroll Says Kentuckians Had Tax Revolt In 1965

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky., (AP) — The property tax cut voted by Californians will have no effect on this state because "Kentucky taxpayers had their revolt 13 years ago," says Gov. Julian Carroll.

The governor said in an interview Wednesday that he was referring to a special legislative session in 1965 which in effect froze property tax rates except for natural growth.

That session was called by then-Gov. Edward Breathitt after the state Court of Appeals had ruled all property had to be assessed at fair cash value. Carroll said that the California referendum, Proposition 13, would not relate to Kentucky at all if the same proposal were on the ballot in this state.

California voted for a 1 percent property tax ceiling, he said, and Kentucky's aggregate property taxes on a local basis amount to well under that figure.

Carroll said he asked fiscal officials to pull together the total assessment of taxable property in the state, and they estimated about $43 billion.

"But the total taxes collected from that amount are only about $400 million," the governor said. "In effect, our present tax limits in Kentucky are less than the amount for which Californians voted."

Carroll said he is speaking of property taxes at the local level. The state has a nominal property tax which is of no financial importance.

The governor said two other elements of the tax law in Kentucky are beneficial to citizens.

One, he said, is the homestead exemption for homeowners 65 and older that was voted through a constitutional amendment. It now is $8,900 and Carroll said it should increase to $10,000 in a couple of years.

Another successful constitutional proposal provides for assessing land used for agriculture at substantially less than the market value of other land.

Carroll reiterated his belief that local property taxes are not the way to finance schools.

"In most states, those taxes account for two-thirds of the money funding education," he said. "In Kentucky, it is exactly the reverse."

The governor has said that he would not be averse to a program under which all education is financed by state funds. He also commented on what he called "an element of the California story that has not been told and should be emphasized."

Carroll said that when Jerry Brown became governor of California, he abolished his state's Department of Commerce, saying industry was not needed.

"That attitude not only stopped growth in California, but started an exodus of industries from which Kentucky has partly benefited," the governor said.

"Our philosophy is just the opposite. We have encouraged growth and as a result have (progressed economically) with no increase in the property tax area."

Fiscal Court are legislative bodies. The magistrates will approve budgets, appointments, contracts and pass ordinances covering a whole range of functions, regulatory or service because:

—Counties have home rule. Fiscal court decides if the county wants or needs a park system, or garbage collection, better dog control, or a countywide fire safety code for homes.

—Counties will adopt an administrative code. As part of its revamping of county government's power and duties, the legislature also repealed many statutes "permitting" counties to act in a given area. The "home rule" grant of power allows a county to select the design the service or regulation it needs. The statutes no longer spell out for counties how to do it except in limited areas of

Police Seek Suspect In Beating Of City Woman

Murray Police issued arrest warrants today for Hal B. Cathey, 24, who is wanted in connection with the beating of 26-year-old Vicki McChesney of Olive Street in Murray.

The woman was found at the emergency room entrance of Murray-Calloway County Hospital about 9:30 Wednesday night.

A spokesman for Western Baptist Hospital, where she was taken last night, listed her condition prior to noon today as very critical with multiple severe head injuries.

Murray Police Chief Brent Manning said today that local authorities are looking for Cathey in connection with the case.

Police detectives were also expected to search a pickup truck registered to Cathey.

Police warrants charge Cathey with assault in the first degree.

Manning described Cathey as a white male about 5 ft., nine inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds. Manning said he has no known address. The suspect has brown hair and a reddish complexion, Manning said.

The police chief said the woman was beaten with a blunt instrument and also possibly stabbed.

Police said Murray hospital personnel found the woman at the entrance to the emergency room when they heard some moaning sounds outside.

A spokesman for Murray State University said Ms. McChesney was listed as a junior last semester majoring in criminology. She was also listed as being married to Patrick K. McChesney, but Manning said the woman was apparently divorced.

Manning said she was originally from Princeton, and he indicated her maiden name as Childress.

U. S. Called 'Global Policeman'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, in an unusually speedy response to President Carter's foreign policy speech, attacked U.S. policies in Africa and accused Washington and NATO of trying to be "global policemen."

The first Soviet answer to Carter was given in a Washington dispatch by Tass, the Soviet news agency, a few hours after the president spoke Wednesday at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Speaking of Soviet and Cuban military support for revolutionary forces in Africa, Carter said: "All too often they seem ready to exploit any opportunity" to promote instability.

Tass said this "put the blame at the wrong door" for Africa's current conflicts.

"The USA, jointly with some other NATO countries, is intervening in Zaire by using the services of the ruling circles of those African states which follow in the wake of neocolonialist policy," the Soviet dispatch continued.

This was a reference to the troops from Morocco, Senegal and Gabon which the U.S. Air Force is flying to Zaire to bolster the army of President Mobutu Sese Seko.

Tass also accused Carter of living a false picture of the situation in Angola when he charged that the Soviet Union was using Cuban "proxy forces" there.

"The president assured that Washington wanted a peaceful settlement in Angola although it was precisely the USA that is known to have supported and supplied disruptive groupings in that country," Tass said.

Congress voted two years ago to cut off covert CIA support for guerrillas fighting the Marxist government which the Soviet Union and Cuba support. But Zaire President Mobutu Sese Seko is still supplying the rebels, and much of what he gives them comes from the United States.

Tass said although the Soviet Union at the U.N. General Assembly's current disarmament session made "concrete suggestions" to curtail the arms race, Carter ignored this and "repeated again inventions ... about 'the excessive buildup' of Soviet military might and unfounded allegations that the Soviet Union is trying 'to export' its form of government."

Final Preparations Made For MSU's Summer Term

Final preparations have been completed for the opening of the 1978 summer term at Murray State University Monday, June 12.

Although class scheduling for the summer term is now closed, a day of registration for students not prescheduled for the eight-week period has been arranged for June 12 in the Student Center on North 16th Street.

Summer classes will meet for the first time June 13 and will continue through August 4, the date of the summer commencement exercises.

Undergraduates who plan to attend summer classes but are not prescheduled are urged to report to the Admissions Office in Sparks Hall on Thursday or Friday of this week, or Monday of next.

Graduates students who have not prescheduled but who were in school last summer or this past spring as graduate students should report to the Student Center on Monday. All other graduate students should come to the Admissions Office.

Wilson Gantt, dean of admissions and registrar, says that students who have prescheduled and have prepaid all required charges for tuition, room and meals are not required to return to the campus prior to the start of classes on June 13.

It will be necessary to complete a final clearance during the first week of classes, June 13-16, to authenticate enrollment and to activate names on the class rolls, he said.

4 Local Boys Headed For Boy's State

Four local boys from Murray High and Calloway High School will be among the 49 boys from the First District of American Legion to attend Bluegrass Boys State at the Eastern State University next week.

Tommy D. Fike, 1505 Sycamore, Joseph Mark Winchester, Route 7, Duane Edward Dycus 923 N. 18th and Terry K. Smith, Route 8, will leave Saturday morning by bus for Richmond. These boys have been selected by their student counselors for their leadership, character and scholarship abilities.

Bluegrass Boys State is a program designed to train Kentucky youth in the fundamentals of good citizenship and governmental operations. Boys are elected to various offices in the state government including governor. There are two parties and mock elections are held. The two parties are purely mythical, Federalists and Nationalists. Within the political framework there are eight mythical cities and four counties. When a candidate is accepted as a citizen of Bluegrass Boys State he is assigned to a county, city and political party.

The program is one of the youth programs sponsored by the American Legion. Co-sponsors of the four youths this time are Bank of Murray, Peoples Bank, Lions Club and Murray Federal Savings and Loan.

The requirement that a judge-executive prepare a code became effective January 1. Fiscal courts shall adopt a code effective Jan. 1, 1979.

The administrative code is essentially a regulation issued by the judge-executive with the approval of fiscal court. The court's close involvement in its preparation will give the magistrates a clear understanding of county administration and confidence in the assignment of responsibilities.

law says: The fiscal court shall adopt a county administrative code which includes, but is not limited to, procedures and designation of responsibility for:

—General administration of the office of county judge-executive, county administrative agencies and public authorities.

—Administrative of county fiscal affairs, including budget formulation, receipt and disbursement of county funds and preparation of records required for the county audit and the filing of claims against the county.

—Personnel administration, including description and classification of non-elected positions, selections, assignment, supervision and discipline

Unhappy Lady Gets a Hearing

DEAR ABBY: Living in Los Angeles and being without a car, I often take the bus. I have met the nicest people at bus stops, but last week I struck up a conversation with a lady by saying, "Hello. Isn't it a lovely day?" She then proceeded to tell me that she had a steel peg in her knee because she had been hit by a car and dragged 50 feet, and how her family and friends couldn't care less that she had to walk with a cane, and how horrible and indifferent most people are in general. I was sorry I even spoke to her.

Abby, I learned a long time ago that nobody likes to hear about your troubles. Why couldn't that woman just thank God that she was alive and tell people how lucky she is?

JIM IN HOLLYWOOD
DEAR JIM: Because that woman was full of anger. Look at it this way, Jim: You performed a real service by letting her vent some of her hostility. Thank God that you have your outlook on life—not hers.

DEAR ABBY: WONDERING asked, "Do doctors believe in sending a condolence message after a patient has died, or do they just send bills?"

I wonder if patients' families realize how much of a personal loss a doctor feels when one of his patients dies.

During a prolonged illness, some physicians feel as close to their patients as the patients' own friends and relatives do.

Perhaps the doctor doesn't send a condolence message when a patient dies because he feels it has been his loss, too.

M.D. IN SAN DIEGO
DEAR M.D.: I know that what you say is true. Read on for another letter concerning physicians and their so-called "money-hungry" attitudes:

DEAR ABBY: I just want people to know that nice doctors do exist. My wife died 10 months ago, and after her death I received a beautiful letter of sympathy from her doctor and his staff. Not only that, but when the doctor found out that our health insurance covered only 80 percent of his bill, he told me to forget the other 20 percent.

GRATEFUL IN OHIO
DEAR ABBY: Do you know the origin of the Swiss yodel? Let me tell you:

In pre-yodel days, a very naive non-Swiss suggested to the Swiss that they tip for services rendered. In case you don't know it, the Swiss are reputed to be the world's most tightfisted people. Well, this disturbing and outrageous suggestion swiftly brought forth from the Swiss a loud, strange and new outcry.

Thus was born the yodel!

PORTLAND, MAINE
DEAR PORTLAND: You'd yodel, too, if you have been accustomed to having the "tip" included in the cost of the service, and then were told that an additional gratuity was expected.

TINA BAKER was awarded second place in the Specialty Acts of the 4-H Variety Show for her performance of a baton routine. Tina is a fifth grade student at North Calloway Elementary School, and a member of the Stella Stars 4-H Club.

SELECTED AS Residential Yard of the Month by the Garden Department of the Murray Woman's Club was the home of Jo C. Williams on Canterbury Drive.

Residential Yard Of Month Named, Garden Department

The Garden Department of the Murray Woman's Club selection for residential "Yard of the Month" is the home of Jo C. Williams on Canterbury Drive.

From the European style window boxes of double white petunias and red geraniums in the second floor windows to the sandstone focks fiver gravel. Florida shells, and driftwood base, the plantings exhibit thoughtful planning for each season's blooming plants combined with a variety of greenery.

Visible through the floor-length windows are large potted and hanging plants of anthurium, tiger paw, angel wing, and beef steak begonia, nutmeg palm, corn plant, and a thirty year old jade plant.

The north side of the drive, not pictured has a bed with varying heights of greenery including a very large yucca lily and summer blooming cannas, mums, begonia, prtulaca, snapdragon, and ground cover plants. A large urn of multi-colored petunias is the focal point in this area.
Plants which are now green north of the drive are white pine, flowering peach, peach and apple trees, and japonica.

Paralleling the drive on the south is a row of summer blooming roses. Mrs.
Williams' favorite is the Double Delight. Strategically placed on the lawn are white dogwood, corkscrew willow, hydrangea, red Japanese maple, flowering pink peach, japonica, flowering Japanese cherry and azalea mulched in cypress.

The long bed framing the front windows of the home coordinated with the interior house plants contains yucca lilies, bamboo cacti, round leaf Japanese holly, Helleri Japanese holly, azaleas, and English boxwood. The lower tier of summer plants include salvia, miniature roses,
cockscorn, marigolds,
ageratum, snapdragon and the wandering Jew.

The carport, not pictured, is converted into an outdoor room with astro turf of striped gold, orange and green.
Hanging baskets of ferns and potted plants enhance the redwood furniture. A candelabra cactus and a large petticoat fern on a tall white stand are unusually attractive. Miniature birds and a Brass wind chime add atmosphere along with the asparagus fern and hoyo carnosa baskets.

Repetition of color in the red geranium and greens on the carport from other areas exemplify the tasteful blending of architectural styles with plants which were favorites for generations and the current new favorites.

The back yard and interior of the home are a continuation and expansion of the areas described. The many hours of work and thoughtful planning are evident everywhere with individuality expressed in the tasteful arrangement of the home.

Phony Sheepskins

"I'm a Yale man, myself," boasts the man at the end of the bar. And these days he probably can buy some sort of credentials to prove it.

Certainly it's easy enough to purchase phony documents to "prove" graduation from trade schools, colleges and even law schools. The practice is a major problem on the nation's campuses.

Phony diplomas are especially troublesome among prestige schools because cheaters figure they might as well shoot the works. Yale University, for instance, has on file more than 7,000 persons who claim to be alumni.

The main reason for the brisk trade in fake documents is the intense competition among students seeking to enter graduate schools. Others fabricate academic records in order to borrow money, boost egos, get jobs, lure investors or to impress friends.

Despite double checking of records and even resorting to the use of fingerprints in some cases, colleges and universities cannot seem to stem the tide.

Perhaps the best way in the end is to judge a person by his abilities and not his sheepskin.

A One Term Presidency?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wait a minute — or better still, a year — before you make any wagers that Jimmy Carter is going to be a one-term president.

He's in a slump, and a bad one. But this is 1978.

Gerald R. Ford got his kicks out of the poll that showed him leading Carter if the election were held now. But he's seen polls change dramatically before, and he said they could again.

Or take the author who predicted between hard covers that Sen. Henry M. Jackson would be the 1976 Democratic presidential nominee. The book didn't sell much.

Republicans, often divided from left to center to right, are almost unanimous in their optimistic forecasts about GOP prospects in the 1980 election.

Almost.

"It's way too early to be predicting a one-term presidency, like a lot of people are doing," said Republican National Chairman Bill Brock. "It's not too early to be predicting one heck of a contest."

Brock said that will be a boon to the Republicans, whatever the outcome.

Then too, Republican optimism is tempered by the familiar GOP argument over the ideal ideological credentials of the candidate most likely to succeed against Carter.

John Sears, a political pro who worked for Richard Nixon in 1968 and Ronald Reagan in 1976, is betting in print that the Republican nominee, regardless of identity, will be a sure winner.

But Sears could get a good argument, and perhaps a bet, from Patrick Caddell, the youthful, ruffled pollster who regularly tests the political winds for Carter.

Caddell, addressing a business group here recently, readily acknowledged the president "has had a serious drop in public opinion surveys in recent months, no matter how they've been measured."

But Caddell argued that the poll results most Americans read "tend to be masking the amount of personal popularity he maintains individually, in terms of personal qualities."

Moreover, the guru of Cambridge Research Associates finds a "lack of intensity" among Carter's poll-measured detractors.

"I have rarely seen a politician who has reached the levels in overall (low) ratings that Carter has which has not been accompanied by an enormous amount of... personal hostile reaction," said Caddell.

He said Carter seems to escape the kind of hostility directed at such earlier presidents as Nixon, Lyndon Johnson and Truman when their popularity ratings were similarly slim.

In Caddell's view, public attitudes toward Carter are more ambivalent than negative.

That's significant, he continued, because an officeholder has a better opportunity to stage a ratings comeback "if people do not feel enormously hostile about you."

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Deferring To Reagan

WASHINGTON — Rep. Jack Kemp, secretly boosted by Republican kingmakers for the 1980 presidential nomination, has privately passed word to Ronald Reagan that he will step aside if Reagan runs.

Kemp probably the party's hottest article today, gave a Reagan confidant this message:

He wants to run for the Senate in 1980 from New York, whether or not Sen. Jacob Javits retires. Noting speculation about his running for president that year, he pledged to support a Reagan candidacy. "You have my word in blood on that," Kemp said.

That reaffirms a clear path through the party's conservative wing of Reagan runs again, with Sen. Robert Dole previously declaring he would not oppose him. And Reagan seems likely to make an announcement early next year that he is "exploring" another race — a de facto announcement of candidacy.

Kemp's deferral to Reagan eliminates a possible confrontation between master and pupil. While a professional football quarterback a decade ago, Kemp worked off-season on then-Gov. Reagan's staff.

Besides his basic conservative support, Kemp has been winning moderate Republican backing that eludes Reagan. For instance, liberal Minnesota Senate candidate Rudy Boschwitz (currently leading Democratic Sen. Wendell Anderson by 11 percentage points in the polls) wants Kemp's help. Advisers have told Boschwitz a Reagan appearance would hurt more than it would help.

A footnote: Reagan insiders doubt another Reagan-Ford bloodbath in 1980. They feel Gerald Ford will not enter the primaries but hoped for a deadlock convention that would turn to him. Reagan, enthusiastic and optimistic, will take the primary route.

ZBIG AND HUA

The cement in the new bonds between Communist Chinese leader Huo Kuo-feng and Zbigniew Brzezinski, President Carter's national security adviser, was Brzezinski's 3½-hour briefing on the whole range of U. S. strategic planning.

Using the controversial PRM 10 as his guideline for the U. S. world role, Brzezinski exposed to Hua intimate U. S. military and political secrets.

Henry Kissinger did much the same when he went to China for former President Richard Nixon. But he never told the world that he had laid bare U. S. strategic plans for Peking.

That difference pleased Chairman Hua. In another first, Brzezinski also authorized "counterpart" talks with Chinese leaders on trade and cultural exchanges. Even State Department aides who accompanied both Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Brzezinski to China told us that Brzezinski's visit "clearly enhanced" U. S.-Chinese relations, compared with Vance's mission last spring.

What makes Brzezinski look so good to Chairman Hua is China's pathological fear of Soviet military power. The Chinese take to Brzezinski, now established as the leading if not the only hawk in the Carter administration, as a Peking duck to water.

A footnote: A key new factor is China's sudden purchases of U. S. grain: a record one million tons so far this year. Nevertheless, the fundamental dispute with Peking over close U. S. ties to Taiwan looks no closer to solution.

If you have any maple trees in your yard, take a close look at them. You just might have on yours what I by chance discovered on three of mine and one of Mrs. Ray's Buckingham's the other day—a destructive and still unidentified aphid which was sucking the life-sustaining juice out of the leaves and causing them to die.

If you have these little insects, you'll find them in a snow-white, cotton-like mass about the size of a crab apple on either of the stem or bottomside of the leaf, which by then should be curling up as it is dying or already curled, black and dead.

I first noticed my uninvited guests because of a chalklike whiteness on the ground beneath one of the trees. A robin has hatched and raised a brood in that tree, and my first thought was, "My, that's a lot of droppings for a nest of robins." Then the chilling thought of blackbirds selecting that tree in which to roost came to mind.

But it was neither.

Looking closely, I discovered the white-like substance on the ground had come from the cotton-like masses on the tree. Pulling one off and looking closely at it, it appeared to be made up of thousands of tiny and delicate little white hairs which seemed highly sensitive to the breeze. They also were slick and greasy to touch.

Looking closer, I found a score or more of the white masses on that particular tree, each attached to a leaf or its stem. The heaviest infestation, however, seemed to be in the maple on the property line at one corner of Mrs.

Buckingham's and our yard.

This is to the northwest of our trees and at time you could see little white specks traveling through the air—either borne by the wind or flying on their own—among the trees. This reminds you of that stuff given off by the cottonwood trees out west. But it is strange that only the maple trees are affected.

"I'll just ask some friends in the agriculture department out at Murray State about this," I thought. "Maybe they can tell me what it is and what to do to stop it." So, I took a branch with a couple of the cotton-like masses out to Dr. Durwood Beatty, one of the professors, and he put one of them under his microscope.

What appeared, like something out of a science fiction movie, were the insects with tiny wings and long, white, hair-like tails. Durwood went through his insect books, pamphlets and whatever appropriate literature he could put his hands on but we didn't come up with any identification to fit the problem.

His advice was to spray the trees with Malathion, which I did the following day, soaking them good with a recommended mixture of it, but does the stuff stick!

Teck and John Farrell were coming over for supper that evening, and I had to meet them on the driveway and apologize for the odor. I also noticed all the neighbors had retreated indoors and buttoned up their houses against it. The Shuffetts even took off for the lake to spend the night on their houseboat. It was just that strong, but it was gone within a few hours.

Apparently the Malathion is doing the job as the ground beneath all the trees now is almost white with little dead insects and I haven't noticed any more sailing through the air, at least between those.

Jerry Scarbrough, just across the street, found some on his trees after I called his attention to them. He had been wondering what the white stuff was that had been falling on the green van. "I just thought it was something coming off the trees," he said.

Jerry's place is a good candidate for The Yard of the Month and he works like a beaver around the place—much to the chagrin of the lesser beavers in the neighborhood like Chuck Shuffett, Charlie Costello, Ted Lawson—and myself. Rest assured he'll pounce right on and rid his trees of them.

At the moment however, no one seems to know what they are, where they came from, where they're going or why they prefer the juice of the maple leaf, but the Malathion seems to effectively check their chomping.

You might check your trees to see if they need spraying—your maples, that is.

Letter To The Editor

Claims Credit

Editor,

As the record of the 1978 General Assembly recedes into history there is one bit of legislation for which I claim credit that, in my view, contributes (and will continue to contribute) more significantly to employment, commerce and industry in Kentucky than any other since the passage of the Revenue Bond Act.

On February 28, 1978, in the wake of the State Supreme Court's ruling that cities and counties no longer can grant tax-free status to industries by buying land and erecting plants with industrial revenue bond, I held a press conference to announce my intention to introduce a bill which would modify taxation of leaseholds in Kentucky.

House Bill 760, (now a law, establishes a new classification of property of all privately-owned leasehold interests in industrial buildings owned and financed by a tax-exempt governmental unit. Under the new classification the leasehold will be taxed at a very minimal rate of one and one-half cents per $100 of assessed value, and they are exempt from local taxation.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky had represented to the industries we have brought here that these interests were not taxable. I felt we must keep our word. I felt it was essential that the 1978

In Seventh Game

Unsold Sparks Bullets To NBA Title

SEATTLE (AP) — Finally, Wes Unseld can look in the mirror and see the face of a champion.

"I don't know how I'm supposed to act," Washington's veteran center said with a sideburn-to-sideburn smile and a shrug of his massive shoulders following the Bullets' thrilling 105-99 victory over the Seattle SuperSonics Wednesday night in the deciding game of the National Basketball Association championship series.

The triumph before a disappointed capacity crowd of 14,098 at the Seattle Center Coliseum ended 10 years of playoff frustration for the Bullets, the only team to make the NBA playoffs every year in the past decade.

And Unseld has been a Bullet each of those 10 years.

"This is the first time for me on this side," said the 6-foot-7, 245-pound Unseld, who was voted the Most Valuable Player in the championship series that went the limit, creating a winner-take-all situation in the seventh game to determine the league champion.

Unseld, who scored 15 points and sank two big free throws in the final two minutes, twice before had been to the finals with Washington only to lose in four straight games — to Milwaukee in 1971 and to Golden State in 1975.

The loss put a damper on an incredible season for the Sonics, who got off to a disastrous 5-17 start but turned around under the guidance of Coach Lenny Wilkens and came within one game of the coveted championship.

Guard Charles Johnson and forward Bobby Dandridge led the Bullets' victory in the title game with 19 points apiece. But it was a three-point play by second-year reserve forward Mitch Kupchak and Unseld's free throws that cooled a Seattle rally in the final, frantic minutes.

The Sonics, who shot just 39 percent for the game to Washington's 45 percent, trailed 79-66 after three periods. Seattle closed to within 98-94 in the final two minutes before Mike Kupchak hit a three-point play with 1:30 to go.

Fred Brown sank a free throw and hit a bank shot and Paul Silas hit a layup to bring the Sonics to within 101-99 with 18 seconds on the clock. But six seconds later, Unseld sank two free throws to clinch the victory that ended, once and for all, the Bullets' status as the NBA's perennial bridesmaid.

"That was a big play for Washington," said Wilkens. "It was a super play on Kupchak's part. Things were going well until then."

Then, with 12 seconds left and the Bullets ahead by two points, Unseld was fouled intentionally and had three chances to make two at the free throw line. He missed the first but made the next two.

"I just stand up there and shoot and hope they go in," said Unseld.

"The Fat Lady is singing for us tonight," said Bullets Coach Dick Motta in the noisy Washington locker room.

Throughout the playoffs, the Bullets' battle cry has been, "The Opera Ain't Over 'til the Fat Lady Sings." Motta picked up the slogan from a

San Antonio sportscaster because he felt its never-say-die sentiment fit his team perfectly.

The Bullets had avoided elimination on Sunday when they routed the Sonics 117-82 at Landover, Md., to even the series at three victories apiece. And then they won the biggest game of all — on the road Wednesday night.

"This team never gave up," said Motta. "I'm so proud of them. Nobody expected us to go this far, but here we are — NBA champions."

Motta also praised the losing Sonics.

"These are two very fine basketball teams," he said. "It's too bad one had to lose, but I'm glad we were not the ones."

"No one except those involved knew how far we came," said Wilkens. "A lot of people around the country looked past us, even when we were winning. We proved to them we are a good ball club."

"Washington was a better team tonight and you have to give them credit for the championship."

Holmes Ready

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Brash and confident, Larry Holmes hasn't sparred since last Monday because his handlers feel he might be too sharp too early for Friday night's World Boxing Council heavyweight championship fight against titlist Ken Norton.

"On Monday, he nearly knocked out two sparring partners," said Holmes' manager, Richie Giachetti, "so we decided he wouldn't box the rest of this week. He was sharp enough."

Odds that opened at 8-5 favoring Norton had dropped to 6-5 as the two heavyweights wound up their training on Wednesday.

Holmes merely went through some exercises, while Norton included a sparring session in his final drill.

Holmes said he has fought the top fighters either in the professional ring or in gymnasiums and, "I had it tough coming up, I fought everybody they wanted me to fight."

"He don't respect me," said Holmes. "I know he's going to force the fight, but just until I lay a punch on him. He drags his feet and shuffles and that's why I call him 'the mummy.'"

Rudolph Isn't Bitter, Just Realistic

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AP Special Correspondent NEW YORK (AP) — It's one thing to be black and another to be a woman, says America's most celebrated black female athlete, contending that this adds up to something like, double jeopardy.

"Black women athletes in this country are on the lowest rung of the sports ladder," said Wilma Rudolph, the triple gold medalist of the 1960 Olympics in Rome, a statuesque beauty who seems immune to the aging process.

"Black male athletes have carved out niches for themselves in our society — Muhammad Ali, O.J. Simpson, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Arthur Ashe. They have become both rich and famous. They are constantly sought out for personal appearances, movie roles and lucrative TV commentator jobs. They've got it made."

"Quick now, tell me the name of a black woman athlete who has done the same."

One can ponder a long time without coming up with an answer. Well, there was Althea Gibson, the tennis champion who rose from the sidewalks of New York to win Wimbledon and to curtsy before the queen. And there was Wilma Rudolph.

Hardly household names. Wilma isn't bitter. She is merely realistic. She has dedicated a big part of her post-Olympic life to preaching a gospel of hope for black kids in the nation's ghettos — both boys and girls, but mostly girls.

After a childhood of poverty in a family with 22 children and adversity and poor health, Wilma worked her way through college — Tennessee

State in Nashville, "no scholarship" — and developed into America's greatest woman sprinter of alltime.

"It was disillusioning," she admitted. "I was always looked upon as an ex-athlete."

Bonham Not Satisfied, But Keeps Win

By FRED GOODALL

AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Bonham not only wasn't certain who tossed him the game ball after the Cincinnati Reds' 9-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. He wasn't sure if he deserved it.

"It wasn't one of my better games," Bonham said Wednesday after scattering eight hits over six innings to win his first start against his ex-teammates. "But I thought about the situation and I decided I'd keep it."

Bonham, who went to Cincinnati in an off-season trade which brought Woodie Fryman to the Cubs, said several of the Reds had come to him before the game and told him that they would try to give him as much support as possible.

"I knew that didn't guarantee that I'd get a lot of runs, but it gave me a great feeling to know that everybody was behind me," said Bonham, who hiked his record to 7-0. "I tried to play down coming back to Chicago, but you can't hide emotions."

"When I got out there in the first inning I had to do everything I could to remember what I had to do to get them out," said Bonham. "I'm sure my emotions affected my concentration."

The Reds ripped loser Ray Burris, 3-4, for four runs in the first inning and chased the right-hander in the second when the first two batters singled.

"I just didn't have it," said Burris.

Ken Griffey tripped and scored on Joe Morgan's fly ball to give the Reds a 1-0 lead. After Burris hit George Foster with a pitch and issued a walk to Dan Driessen, Dave Concepcion smacked a double to right field drive in Foster. Mike Lum capped the rally with a two-run single.

Fryman replaced Burris after Bonham and Pete Rose singled to open the Cincinnati second. Griffey walked to load the bases and the Reds added runs on consecutive sacrifices by Morgan and Foster.

Bonham, who contributed a two-run double in the fifth inning, was sailing along with 9-1 lead when a brief thunderstorm crossed Wrigley Field in the bottom of the fifth.

The game continued, however, and Bonham pitched quickly in an effort to complete the inning and make the contest official. In the process, he gave up a two-run homer to Dave Kingman, his 12th.

"I tried to keep my rhythm, but we did hurry," Bonham said. "It was thundering and lightning and with the natural grass here, you can never tell when a game will be rained out."

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson said he lifted Bonham after the sixth inning, because he had already thrown 119 pitches. Anderson said the outing wasn't one of Bonham's best, but added that under the circumstances, it was pretty good.

"He was jittery," said Anderson. "I tried to calm him down by telling him that this was the first and last time he would have to go through it. Every player has the same feeling when he faces his old team."

Dave Tomlin and Doug Bair pitched the final three innings for the Reds. Tomlin allowed one run in the seventh and two in the eighth, before Bair came on to record his ninth save.

At Memphis Golf Classic

'All I Need Is A Break'

MEMPHIS (AP) — Journeyman Gibby Gilbert, one of those accomplished but unspectacular laborers on the pro golf tournament trail, could be a decided threat in the $250,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Classic.

"All I need is a break," Gilbert said before teeing off today in the first round of the chase for a $50,000 first prize.

The 37-year old veteran of 11 years on the tour has collected three titles. None have come this season. But, he said, he's playing the best golf of his life.

"I've never played like this before," said the stocky, sturdy Gilbert, the 1976 Memphis champ. "Oh, for a round or two, maybe a whole tournament, but never for an extended period."

Hinkle's spectacular finish.

"That's as good as I can play," Gilbert said. "From the lead (at the end of 54 holes), I shoot 67 and that's not good enough. I can't play better than that."

Although many of the game's top names are taking this week off to prepare for the U.S. Open, Gilbert faces a strong field over the hilly, 7,249-yard, par-72 Colonial Country Club course.

"I'm playing the best I know how, the best I can. Every shot is coming off just right.

"All I need is a break.

"You know, the difference between winning and a top 10 finish is just about this much," he said, and held thumb and forefinger about one-half inch apart. "Just that much. The difference is just one break, one shot at the key time. That's what makes you a winner instead of finishing fifth."

Gilbert has won $33,710 in his last five starts and $57,831 for the year. His big check came in a tie for second at New Orleans, won by Lon

Chief among them are Lee Trevino, a two-time winner here and South African Gary Player, who started a string of three consecutive victories in the Masters, and defending champion Al Geiberger, who shot that incredible 59 in the second round of the 1977 Memphis event.

The field of 150 also includes 1978 tournament winners Jim Simons, Gil Morgan, Andy Bean, Miller Barber, Barry Jaelkel, Lon Hinkle, Mac McLendon, Jerry Heard and Spain's Severiano Ballesteros. Dave Hill, a four-time winner here, and Johnny Miller, also are on hand.

Portions of the final two rounds will be televised by CBS-TV.

Alford Wins Third George Hart Golf Crown

By M. C. GARROTT

Apparently, it now takes an even par 75 to win the ladies' annual George Hart Invitational golf tournament at the Murray Country Club.

Last year Nancy Howell, a long-driving young lady from Clarksville, Tenn., went home with the championship trophy after touring the ladies' 5,687-yard layout in even par.

Yesterday, however, the championship went — and for the third time — to a veteran West Kentucky campaigner from Paducah's Paxton Park course — diminutive Mary Jane Alford.

Mrs. Alford stroked a red-hot putter to win the 11th renewal of the popular tournament, also with an even par 75 and four strokes in front of her closest pursuer, Mary Bain of Sikeston, Mo., and winner of the event in 1976.

Mrs. Alford, who won the tournament in 1970 and again in 1972, used only 27 putts to post a one-over-par 39 on the front nine before coming home in 36, one under ladies' par on the 2,805-yard, sprawling back side.

She one-putted 10 of her 18 greens, seven on the back nine. A three-putt from 25 feet on the tree-tight 320-yard 8th hole was the only blemish on her splendid performance on the near-perfect bermuda greens.

For her sparkling back nine score, Mrs. Alford, who also won the Paxton Park ladies' spring tournament in mid-May, one-putted the first four greens, two-putted the 14th, one-putted the next three and two-putted the 18th for her second-nine 36.

On the 260-yard 12th, she rammed home a five-footer for the first of her two birdies of the day. Three holes later on the 422-yard 15th, she holed another — this one from 12 feet — before getting a bogey at 18 after a straying second shot left her to the right of the tilted green and with a difficult approach to the tricky, rolling putting surface.

"This was just one day on which I seemed to be reading the greens accurately and stroking the putts well," she smiled while authenticating her scorecard. "That's the answer — putting."

Playing in the foursome immediately in front of Mrs. Alford, Mrs. Bain put a front-nine 40 on the scoreboard in making the turn two over, but could muster no better than a two-over-par 39 on the back side to finish second.

She bogeyed the 298-yard dogleg 10th but pulled back even with par with a birdie at 15. She then parred the 460-yard, lake-guarded 16th but bogeyed the 155-yard 17th and the 360-yard 18th for 39 and her four-over-par 79 for the day.

Miss Howell never could quite pull her game together, posting a four-over-par 42 on the front nine, and a five-over 41 on the back, to finish at 83 and in a three-way tie with Nancy Neckel and Tammy Mullen, also from the Paxton Park course in Paducah.

Winner of the first flight was Norma Smith of Paducah with an 84, two strokes ahead of Ellie Bolz, also of Paducah.

Mary Anderson of Metropolis, Ill., and the 1969 winner, was next with 87, followed by Dee Albright of Clarksville and Venela Sexton of Murray, both of whom had 89s.

Paducah's Pauline Green won the second flight with a 91, two strokes in front of Wanda Brown and Vicki Nance, both of the Oaks Country Club in Murray, and Helen Glober of Mayfield, all with 93s. Mabel Rogers of the Oaks was next with 95.

Winner of the third flight was Jane Woodard of Hopkinsville with a 94. One stroke back was Sandy Coleman of the Oaks, followed by Margaret Schmidt of Metropolis and Martha Coleman of Clarksville with 97s and Connie Wood, Mayfield, with 98.

The longest drive contest, held on the straightaway 3rd fairway, was won by Mrs. Bain with a 245-yard boomer. Sue Costello of the host club stuck her tee shot 18 inches from the pin to win the hole-in-one competition on the 125-yard 11th hole. She then canned the putt for a birdie.

The Dorothy Holland trophy, awarded each year to the four ladies from any one club whose aggregate score is the lowest, went to the Paxton Park team made up of Mrs. Alford, Tammy Mullen, Norma Smith and Nancy Neckel. Their total score was 325, or an average of just over 81.

In addition to the championship trophy, Mrs. Alford also will have possession until next year's tournament of the traveling trophy provided annually by the Bank of Murray in memory of the late George Hart, former president of the bank, mayor of Murray and prominent civic leader and club member. Mrs. Lochie Hart, his widow, was on hand again yesterday to make its traditional presentation to Mrs. Alford.

The ladies playing in the championship flight and their scores were:

Mary Jane Alford	39-36-75
Mary Bain	40-39-79
Nancy Howell	42-41-83
Nancy Neckel	41-42-82
Tammy Mullen	43-40-83
Betty Lowry	41-43-84
Jerlene Sullivan	43-42-85
Jane Ann Nall	42-43-85
Carolyn Caldwell	46-45-85
Carol Hubbard	41-45-86
Ruby Bennett	43-44-87
Rae Warford	46-47-87
Dean Conyer	44-45-89
Sandy Weintraub	41-50-91

Yankees Pound Mariners

A Seattle Team Loses Again

By BARRY WILNER

AP Sports Writer

For Seattle sports fans, the New York Yankees were just adding insult to injury.

It was bad enough that the Washington Bullets ended the miracle run of the SuperSonics Wednesday in the National Basketball Association. And the North American Soccer League Sounders were beaten by Rochester while the World Team Tennis Cascades were upended by Golden Gate.

Then the Yankees went out and pounded the Mariners 9-1 as Ron Guidry won his ninth consecutive game without a loss, making Seattle sports teams a dismal 0-4 on the evening.

Reggie Jackson slammed a pair of home runs and Roy White and Bucky Dent also homered as the Yankees broke a four-game losing streak and won for just the second time in the Kingdom in the two years that the Mariners have been in the league.

Tigers 8, Brewers 1

Jim Slaton five-hit his former teammates and Rusty Staub knocked in four runs with a two-run homer, a double and a sacrifice fly. Slaton, who entered the game with a 4.81 earned run average, carried a two-hitter into the ninth.

White Sox 8, Twins 3

A six-run second inning highlighted Chicago's 10th victory in its last 11 games. A two-run single by Henry Cruz and an error by Minnesota shortstop Roy Smalley keyed the inning.

Ken Kravec, 4-4, who set a career-high with 12 strikeouts, and Jim Willoughby combined on an eight-hitter for the White Sox.

Angels 4-0, A's 1-1

California won the opener as Ken Brett and Paul Hartzell teamed up on a four-hitter and Ron Fairly hit his sixth homer of the season.

Quality engineered Riding Mowers

The Ariens Company has made great strides in the manufacturing of quality engineered riding mowers and this is no exception. With the addition of two heavy duty 10 hp riding mowers, Ariens has the mower to suit any of your lawn care needs. These rugged rear-engine lawn tractors are teamed up with three 8 hp-30" riders to form the Emperor Series. All of these riding mowers have the same great features that one comes to expect from Ariens. The 10 hp-38" model and 10 hp-30" model combine these features with the added power you need for big, demanding tasks.

The 10 hp models have all of the time-tested features that have made the 8 hp models so popular. The 8 hp Deluxe model comes equipped with an electric starter. All other models have easy recoil starters with ring gear electric starter adaptation. With the exception of the 8 hp-RB model. Electric starter kits of 12 volt DC or 120 Volt AC are available.

The "Flex-N-Float Plus" mower deck action is an exclusive feature of Ariens Riding Mowers. This allows the deck to follow lawn contours and minimizes scalping. Cutting height adjustment is easily controlled. The model 1038R, 10 hp riding mower cuts a wide 38" (97 cm) path through high grass, while model 1030R has a cutting width of 30" (76 cm). The 8 hp models all have a 30" (76 cm).

Disc-O-Matic drive makes speed changes simple and smooth and the differential permits easy turning — no scuffing of turf. All operating controls are within convenient reach and all models have heavy-duty positive action brake and separate clutch pedal that acts as a brake when sufficiently depressed. For your safety, the Ariens safety interlock system prevents starting the engine until the shift lever has been placed in neutral, the mower blade disengaged, and the ignition key has been turned on. The rear mounted engine provides extra traction, and better, forward vision. An automotive-type wheel and geared steering provide exceptional maneuverability.

All models come equipped with a pin hitch to allow easy attachment of items such as a fertilizer, a dump cart, or lawn roller. Other attachments, like a Rear Grass Bagger, make lawn grooming a pleasure by eliminating tiresome grass and leaf raking. Just place two 30-gallon (132 liter) plastic bags in the heavy-duty hoppers and mow away. When filled, lift out the bags and set out for collection. In the winter, a 40" (101.6 cm) spring loaded Snow Blade helps make difficult snow removal a thing of the past.

Ariens engineered riding mowers are "A Cut Above The Rest" when you're comparing riding mowers or rear-engine lawn tractors. Look closely at Ariens heavy-duty welded steel frame, time tested Disc-O-Matic Drive, full pneumatic tires, and many other features, then ask your Ariens dealer for a test drive. You'll find the right riding mower for you from Ariens.

USC Nips Tarheels

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The top-ranked Southern California Trojans said they weren't scared by their near loss to North Carolina although Coach Rod Dedeaux admitted he was "hiding under the dugout."

"That's as close a call as we've had in any College World Series game," Dedeaux said.

He ought to know. His Trojans have won 10 NCAA titles with him in the coaching box. North Carolina, on the other hand, was rated an underdog in the series but went home with a tie for third place after losing 3-2 to Southern Cal Wednesday night.

The Trojans, 53-9, take on Arizona State tonight. It will be the championship game if the Trojans win. But if the Sun Devils, who suffered their only loss of the series to USC Tuesday night, can win, the title would be decided Friday night.

Arizona State got seven strong innings out of starter Casey Lindsey and erupted for four runs in the sixth inning and five in the ninth to hammer Miami out of the tournament, 11-3.

"We'll beat them twice," Sun Devil Coach Jim Brock said. "Our guys who haven't hit much are ready to bust loose and have a 4-for-5 night."

USC capitalized on two passed balls and a wild pitch for all three of its runs, but neither Dedeaux nor North Carolina Coach Mike Roberts felt the Tar Heels gave the game away.

The Trojans, trailing 2-0 after seven innings, got two runs in the eighth on a walk, single and two passed balls. USC scored the winning run in the ninth, when John Wells' sacrifice fly drove home Larry Fobbs — who had singled, gone to second on a wild pitch and then stole third.

Phils Win Sixth Straight; Reds Roll

By BERT ROSETHAL
AP Sports Writer
The sizzling Philadelphia Phillies extended their winning streak to six games, overcoming the San Francisco Giants 5-4 Wednesday night with two runs in the ninth inning.

It was the third time in the past five games Philadelphia has rallied to win in the ninth inning. "I feel like we ran into a buzzsaw," said Joe Altobelli, the Giants' shell-shocked manager who had seen his team lose three straight one-run games to the Phillies and fall to second place in the National League West, one-half game behind the Cincinnati Reds.

On the other hand, the victory kept alive the recent winning streak of Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark. Just before his team's victory string, which began with three wins over the Los Angeles Dodgers, Ozark had visited Atlantic City's new gambling casino last Thursday and left with a winning bundle. Then that night, he went to the race track — and again he was a winner.

The Houston at Pittsburgh game was rained out.

The Giants tied the score in the fifth on Willie McCovey's three-run double and went ahead 4-3 in the eighth on pinch hitter Mike Ivie's RBI single. But the Phils were ready with their ninth-inning lightning. They tied the score on singles by Bake McBride, Bowa and Schmidt, and won it on pinch hitter Jose Cardenal's single.

Reds 9, Cubs 6
Undeclared Bill Bonham of Cincinnati, making his first start against his former team mates, gained his seventh victory, although pitching only six innings as the Reds ended the Cubs' five-game winning streak and broke their 10-game victory string at Wrigley Field.

The big hits for the Reds were Mike Lum's two-run single that capped a four-run first inning and a two-run double by Bonham in the fifth. Dave Kingman hit a two-run homer, his 12th, for Chicago.

Expos 4-8, Padres 0-3
Wayne Twitchell and Bill Atkinson collaborated on a four-hitter and Tony Perez hit his 301st career homer in Montreal's opening victory, the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game.

In the nightcap, Ross Grimsley became the first 10-game winner in the major leagues and Larry Parrish rapped a three-run homer as the Expos pulled within 1½ games of the NL East lead. Grimsley, who has lost twice, checked the Padres on six hits.

Braves 6, Cardinals 0
Knuckleballer Phil Niekro tantalized and frustrated St. Louis on four singles, and Biff Pocoroba ripped a grand slam homer, leading Atlanta past the stumbling Cardinals, who have lost 20 of their past 27 games. The 39-year-old Niekro, 6-6, struck out two and walked two in hurling his 32nd career shutout.

Mets 3, Dodgers 2
Pat Zachry, 7-1, tossed a three-hitter and struck out six in winning his fourth consecutive game for New York.

The Mets broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth when Steve Henderson scored on Ron Hodges' slow grounder to second base with runners at first and third and one out. Second baseman Dave Lopes, whose homer accounted for both Dodgers' runs, said he had no play at the plate on Hodges' bouncer because it was hit too slow.

Death Klan Says KKK Unit Is 'Last Hope Of White Race'

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Calling the Ku Klux Klan the "last hope of the white race," the Exalted Cyclops of the Paducah, Ky., unit of the Death Klan-Knights says the organization's purpose is to protect the cultural values of the white majority.

The exalted cyclops was one of about 10 or 11 masked members of the western Kentucky Klan who blindfolded Paducah Sun-Democrat reporter, Steve Wingfield, and took him to a recent meeting in a barn near Paducah.

The men, all wearing hooded white robes, said they were "the most violent group in some time" and claimed responsibility for several acts of violence in the area.

They said the organization recently firebombed the home of a leader of Paducah's black community and shot at a house trailer, wounding several people. The newspaper said it verified that both incidents happened.

Paducah Police Chief Robert Holt said the firebombing incident had been investigated, but "we wrote it off as an act of vandalism — teenagers doing it for kicks. Whether they (Klan members) were responsible is a matter of opinion."

The Cyclops said the attack on the trailer was made because the people inside were "runners" — white women who associate with black men, or vice versa. He said the attack serves as a warning for other runners.

"We have files on, I would say, 70 percent of the girls in Paducah and western Kentucky who are runners," the Cyclops claimed. He said the group also keeps files on black leaders and state and local officials who are opposed to the Klan.

He also said the Klan is responsible for other acts of violence in the area recently, such as firebombings, shattered windshields and paint remover thrown at cars.

"They have a chance to straighten themselves out," he said. According to the Cyclops, the group never bothers anyone who does not go against its policies or interfere with its actions.

He said that during Klan raids, lookouts are posted with orders to shoot anyone who interferes. "A white person who stops a white person in these acts is a traitor," he said. The Cyclops said the group intends to continue the violence. The Cyclops said the Paducah police force is "with the niggers," but that "some of the police are associates and get literature to distribute to others."

Police Chief Holt said he didn't know of any officers involved with the Klan now. He said that two or three years ago, two officers were associated with the Klan, but "I haven't heard anything about the Klan in a couple of years."

Horton Award Is Announced At Tilghman

The annual Paducah Tilghman High School journalism banquet honoring the 1977-78 Bell staff was held recently with Dr. L. J. Horton, guest speaker, on hand to present the Horton Award of Honor to Becky Heath.

Dr. Horton, who retired as head of the journalism department at Murray State University after serving as chairman of the School of Journalism at Ohio University in Athens for 20 years, presented the finalists for this year's Horton Award — Tracey Dodson, Tommy George, Betsy Horton, David Lummis and Miss Heath.

Based on recommendation of the adviser, Vicki Russell; formal applications submitted by the finalists; and review of work done during the school year for the award-winning newspaper at Tilghman, Dr. Horton selected Miss Heath.

This award goes to the person who exhibits a spirit of cooperation to staff morale, who is an "ideal" staffer who is academically outstanding and who shows skills and talent in journalism, Horton explained.

The equity in your house is like money in your pocket.

Equity is the difference between how much your home is worth, and what you owe on it.

It's a valuable asset you can use to back a really big loan. For whatever you have in mind.

Real estate values are up, up, up.

So the house you bought just a few years ago probably would sell for a lot more than you paid.

Which means your equity is bigger. And the bigger your equity, the more you can borrow in a large real-estate loan. Right here. Right now.

Maybe the money you're looking for is already in the house.

Bill Cox Announces For Lieutenant Gov.

MADISONVILLE, Ky.—Bill Cox, a 36-year old Madisonville native, today announced his intention to seek nomination for the office of lieutenant governor in Kentucky's 1979 Democratic primary.

Cox said he will make his official campaign announcement when he opens his state-wide campaign headquarters in Madisonville, later dates in other areas of the state. Kentucky's primaries for state-wide offices will be held May 22, 1979.

Cox is a University of Kentucky graduate. He worked for the state of Kentucky in the Departments of Finance, Agriculture, and Highways.

He served in the Kentucky House of Representatives in 1968-69. Later he became the chief executive officer for then-Lt. Governor Julian Carroll, and was state campaign chairman of Carroll's highly successful primary campaign for governor in 1975.

President Carter appointed Cox as the Federal Highway Administrator in 1977. Cox served in that position for 13 months, resigning on May 1, 1978, and returning to Madisonville.

Prior to his Federal appointment, Cox had served as the vice-chairman of the Kentucky Public Service Commission. He is presently self-employed in the trucking industry.

He is married to the former Edith Ann Pritchett, and they have two children—Will, Jr., 10 years old, and Anne 13. They are members of the First Christian church of Madisonville.
